Call for Papers

Scope of the Workshop

Software Agents are an emerging technology offering many possibilities for structuring distributed systems. Although this promising approach is not new, a breakthrough in commercial products is still to come. The 2\textsuperscript{nd} International Workshop on \textbf{Software Agents in Information Systems and Industrial Applications (SAISIA)} provides an interdisciplinary forum for researchers, developers, users and consultants to present and discuss latest advances in research work as well as applications of software agents and multi-agent systems. The focus of this workshop lies on the area of automation technology.

We solicit papers on recent advances in the domain of software agents and multi-agent systems in industrial applications. We specifically encourage papers that are in the context of industrial automation. Both research papers and application-oriented papers are welcome.

Topics

Areas of interest include, but are not limited to

- Software agents for flexible manufacturing
- PLC and CNC software agents
- Agents for manufacturing control
- Software engineering for agent based production systems
- Agents for the digital factory
- Industrial applications of software agents
- Robustness, fault tolerance, scalability and performance measurement
- Interoperability of agent based systems
- Tools and development frameworks for agent systems
